Overtaking a speeding car in which four shop lifters were attempting to escape from this city toward Neenah, Police Officer Albert P. Deltcen Friday afternoon forced occupants of the fleeing car to stop about a half mile outside the city limits on Highway 15 and with gun drawn, ordered them from their machine, placed them under arrest and returned them to the police station in the police car.

The arrest is expected to clear up the mystery surrounding the disappearance of goods from several Appleton drygoods stores during the last three or four weeks.

Those under arrest gave the following names:

George Dickerson, 38, 3314 S. Eighth-st., Minneapolis.

Max Arnsen, 40, 4414 Clarendon-ave., Chicago.

Charles Zanders, 31, 817 Gault-st., Chicago.

Anna Arnsen, 33, 4513 Sheridan-ave., Chicago.

A check-up of loot found in their possessions disclosed a number of bolts of cloth, two dresses, one cloth coat and one fur coat. Some of the loot was taken from Greenen Day Goods Co., The Pettibone-Peabody Co. and the J. C. Penny Co. None of the coats or dresses have been identified as yet. The valuation of the property estimated from $1,500 to $2,000.

WOMAN WATCHES THEM

The shop lifters were discovered at about 2:30 p. m. in the Greenen store by Mrs. Gordon Gillespie, a saleswoman. Her suspicions were aroused by the actions of two women who were Max Arnsen, one of the men arrested by Police Officer Albert P. Deltcen at 3:30 Friday afternoon after a chase which led outside the city limits, is an old criminal. He admits it himself and he has a long police record, according to Chief of Police Prim.

Arnsen recognized Chief Prim as an old acquaintance when brought to the police station Friday.

"Haven't I met you before?" he asked Chief Prim.

"I'm sure I don't know," the chief answered.

"Weren't you formerly located at Chicago?" questioned Arnsen again.

Chief Prim answered in the affirmative.

"Sure, I remember you," Arnsen continued. "You were one of the officers who arrested me for a job I pulled in Chicago a number of years ago. I know your reputation, too, and I'll come clean."

standing in front of a counter across the aisle from her own. The women stood close together as they fingered goods on the counter and suddenly, when they thought Mrs. Gillespie had turned away, one of them snatched up a bolt of cloth and placed it beneath the cape she wore. Then both turned and hastily left the store.

Mrs. Gillespie immediately notified Chris E. Mullen, vice-president of the company and, accompanied by Mrs. Ben Bolda, left the building to follow the women. The latter had disappeared, however, so Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Bolda went to the Pettibone-Peabody store to warn the salespeople there to be on their guard. They also gave a good description of the two women.

POLICE CALLED

In the meantime Mr. Mullen had telephoned the police department, and Chief George T. Prim and several officers were on the streets looking for the shoplifters.

The latter were again discovered a few minutes later in the Pettibone-Peabody store by Mr. Zeidler, who recognized the women from the description he had of them. They were leaving the store when he saw them. Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Bolda, who were still in the Pettibone-Peabody store, also saw them about the same time.

The shoplifters had evidently become suspicious by this time, and

SYRIAN REBELS

GIRD FOR HOLY WAR ON FRENCH

Damascus Surrounded, Railway, Telegraph and Telephone Lines Are Cut

Paris — (AP) — Holy war against the French in Syria threatens. The Arabs are reported to have joined the Djebel Druse tribesmen and are prepared to fight to the death in a crusade against the mandatory power.

Unofficial advisers relate that the rebellious movement is increasing in strength, and that provisional governments are being established by the insurgents in various sections of the country where they are in control. At Damascus, it is said, a provisional government has been set up with Ramadan Tashba Ibn Shalhah as military governor and Messid Bey Bakry, civil governor.

The French have evacuated the large fortified camp at Moussefiri in the Djebel Druse territory south of Suedia. The Heifah-Damascus railway has been cut and the town of Derat, seven miles south of Damascus is in the hands of the Druses.

To the north of Damascus a large part of the country is reported to be under the control of the rebels. The Homs district is held by them. The city of Homs is besieged.

Meanwhile Damascus is sorely beset. The Djebel Druses still surround the already battered city with which communication is reported to have been completely severed by the cutting of railway, telephone and telegraph lines. The Druses at intervals continue to fire into the city and those of the populace who are able to do so are fleeing toward Jerusalem, Alexandretta Bay and Aleppo. All street traffic has ceased and shops are closed.

DEMISE OF BRYAN BREAKS VET'S VOW TO STAY UNSHORN

Smith Center, Kansas — (AP) — More than 30 years ago W. S. Clark, 80, a Civil war veteran, made a vow that he would not have his hair cut until William Jennings Bryan was in the president's chair. The recent death of the orator, however, weakened resolution, and Friday a barber cut the hair that hung about Mr. Clark's waist. For many years Mr. Clark has been a picturesque personage at G. A. R. national encampments, his keen eyes and distinguished appearance leading many to mistake him for Buffalo Bill.

NEW ARRESTS FOLLOW ITALY MURDER PLOT

Conspiracy to Assassinate Mussolini Aimed at Overthrow of Monarchy

Rome — (AP) — Further important arrests and detentions were reported in various parts of Italy Saturday in connection with the plot against the life of Premier Mussolini.

The conspiracy which was of widespread ramifications is declared in some quarters to have been aimed at not alone Mussolini but at the overthrow of the Savoy dynasty and the establishment of an Italian republic. The new arrests as detailed by the Messaggero and the official Fascist organ Popolo di Rome were made at Mantua, Genoa, Turin and Naples.

One of those taken into custody at Naples is a former postal director, brother of General Capello, who was one of the first to be arrested as an alleged ring leader in the plot.

At Turin a general whose name is not given, and a Unitarian Socialist deputy were detained. At Genoa thirty-three persons were arrested. Those taken include a professor, Foli, an accountant named Bonini and five lawyers named Gerraio, Williams, De Carli, Giannino and Puccinatti.

At Treviso, Fascist paper Saturday declares the conspiracy was hatched among members of the Italia Libera (Free Italy), a national patriotic society founded by the dramatist Simeonelli.

The paper reports the arrest of Ulysses Ducei, former head of the society, which was dissolved some time ago. Ducei originally was a Fascist but later joined the ranks of the Antis.

Another important step in the investigation, Ulysses adds, was not taken at Genoa, where the offices of the Socialist newspaper LaVora, were occupied, the police arresting the chief editor, Ansaldo, a prominent Free Mason named Acquarone and the Unitarian Socialist leader Mangini.

SAYS SLUG MINT VENDER IS GAMBLING MACHINE

Madison — (AP) — A mint vending machine which gives a varying amount of metal slugs, good for five cents in trade, as shown by an indicator before the nickel is deposited, is a gambling device and also violates the trading stamp act, Attorney General E. A. Tamm Saturday advised C. N. Soderberg, district attorney of Barron-c.

Another opinion, written by J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, informed J. C. Emery, dairy and food commissioner, that the trading stamp act is violated by a coin-operated company selling dolls at ten cents each where it is not requested that the purchaser shall use a slip attached to the products sold. The law is violated, however, if it is required that the slip be returned in purchasing the dolls, the opinion added.

BRAVED INDIAN WARS, IS BEATEN BY DESPAIR

Billings, Mont. — (AP) — John Burkman, 68, who braved the dangers of war for 11 years and who served as orderly to General George A. Custer, is dead. A victim of despondency caused by brooding over a series of occurrences which took away his desire to live. He shot himself through the head here Friday.

It was Burkman who saddled General Custer's horse Victor, on which the famous Indian fighter sallied forth on his last thrust against the Red Man—the battle of the Little Big Horn. He was the subject of a character sketch by Mrs. Custer in her "Following the Guidon."

DENIES ALIMONY FOR WIFE WHO HAS MEANS

New York — (AP) — Mrs. Jeanette Aldrich, wife of Sherwood Aldrich, president of the Ray Consolidated Copper Co., and its subsidiary, the Ray and Gila Valley Railway company, was denied temporary alimony of $6,250 a month and $25,000 counsel fees in an opinion of the appellate division of the supreme court handed down Friday.

Mrs. Aldrich claimed that her husband was worth at least $4,000,000 and that their living expenses were from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. Justice Churchill held that alimony could not be granted because of the independent means of the wife and on the further ground that Mrs. Aldrich had a suit for separation pending in the supreme court of Nassau-c.

House Committee's Plan Favors Small Taxpayers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C. — While on the surface it may seem as if the house ways and means committee has accepted the rates suggested by Secretary Mellon on normal and surtaxes, the fact is the committee has done no such thing. It has simply fixed some tentative limits as to where minimum and maximum rates shall begin, but has not tackled the all-important job of fixing the graduated scale of rates.

Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, and one of the ablest generals in the house, especially on tax matters, once said: "I don't care what the rates of taxes are—171 let anyone else fix those—but I should like the privilege of fixing the brackets showing where the rates apply."

This bit of tax philosophy will be conceded by Republicans as well as Democrats, for while Mr. Mellon wants a minimum surtax rate of 20 per cent, it makes a good deal of difference to the taxpayer whether that rate starts at $150,000 a year income or at incomes of $1,000,000 a year.

As a matter of fact, the house ways and means committee has increased the proposed tax for all incomes between $13,000 and $150,000 a year beyond Mr. Mellon's figures originally presented for the committee's guidance.

There is nothing very mysterious about what the ways and means committee is doing. It starts with a definite idea of cutting out $300,000,000 a year in taxes. Various business interests have been pleading for the removal of miscellaneous taxes. If all the requests were to be granted the total revenue lost to the government would be three quarters of a billion dollars a year. The chances are that the total reduction for all these special taxes levied indirectly will be about $100,000,000, leaving about $200,000,000 to take care of reductions in normal taxes and surtaxes.

How then shall the $200,000,000 be distributed? Mr. Mellon thought the item for normal taxes and surtaxes should not be so big and had in mind some proportion to be segregated to take care of revenues that would be lost if the estate tax were repealed. The ways and means committee leaves virtually nothing for that repeal.

In distributing the $200,000,000, the committee used up more than half in exemptions of small taxpayers and reduction of normal taxes. Mr. Mellon would have placed the lowest point for the payment of taxes at $2,500 for a married man. The committee puts it at $2,500 for a married man and $1,500 for a single man. This not only would relieve about one million persons from the payment of any taxes, but it means a big cut in the revenue usually received from small taxpayers. It can be made up only by increasing the taxes on the persons of larger income beyond the point suggested by Mr. Mellon. At that the rates would be lower than the present law but the committee has not been as generous with the taxpayers with incomes of $13,000 and above as was the secretary of the treasury.

WOULD PADLOCK NO LAW TO TRY PARENT ELK CLUB GERMAN KAISER

Mother Lodge of the Order in New York Refuses to Submit to Closing Up

New York — (AP) — Efforts are being made to forge a prohibition padlock for the Elks club, home of the mother lodge of the order, of which Federal Judge William H. Atwell, of Dallas, Tex., is the national head. Also the federal district attorney, Buckner, is trying to learn why beer seized as evidence becomes anemic on the way to the court room.

Judge Atwell, grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks sitting temporarily on the bench in New York recently gave heavy sentences to several persons convicted of violating the Volstead act. A federal grand jury Friday questioned employees of the club about nine kegs of beer seized Oct. 26, in a truck in front of the club building. The questioning will be continued Wednesday.

On analysis last week a sample proved to be less than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol and the case was dismissed. A suggestion that the club submit to a voluntary six months padlocking was refused by officials of the club, who said they would fight the case in the courts.

COUNTY MUST SUPPORT POOR IN INSTITUTIONS

Madison — (AP) — A county must pay the fixed rate of $4 a week for the maintenance of a child committed to either a public or private institution as a dependent, the attorney general Saturday informed the state board of control.

T. C. McIntosh, assistant attorney general, held that the county could not fix a sum less than the $4 provided for by law, in the case of a child committed to a private orphanage.

A proposed Milwaukee building and loan association must obtain 100 members and issue 2,000 shares of capital stock, as provided by law, before it is entitled to a certificate of incorporation, T. C. Seibold, assistant attorney general, advised Dwight T. Parker, commissioner of banking. The association also must pay a $25 fee, the opinion held.

STATE LEADS 20 OTHERS NYHUS SAYS

Major Crops Yielded 10 Per Cent Better Than the Yearly Average

Chicago — (AP) — This has been a prosperous year for the farmer. Most of the crops have been plentiful, if not of the bumper variety and the farmer's credit has improved, a survey of most of the middlewestern states shows.

Crop holding is reported from North Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Indiana, while in Kansas the movement has been normal with the only negligible amount of wheat held. In Illinois the general opinion is that conditions do not permit the holdup of crops for price changes. Crops also are moving freely in Ohio and Missouri.

Two successive good crops years have put North Dakota farmers on their feet, records at the state department of agriculture show. Indications are that every part of the state is enjoying better conditions than at any time in the last ten years. Better credit conditions have enabled farmers who so desire to hold their grain instead of delivering it direct from the threshing machine to the elevator. Farmers have paid up back taxes and reducing other liabilities, and reports to the state banking department indicate the combined deposits and surplus of banks are far greater than at any previous time in the history of the state.

BETTER PRICES

Marked decreases were shown in virtually all Oklahoma crops but as partial compensation, farmers are receiving generally higher prices.

The farmers' credit is good in Kansas although the state's crops this year returned $68,000,000 less than last year on the basis of preliminary estimates. State bank officials demand "plenty of money" without a demand for loans from the farmers. Smaller yields brought high prices. Financial conditions are described as generally good with the exception of north central Kansas, where late frosts, insects and midsummer drought inflicted practically total crop failures.

Although Iowa's corn crop was held up some by wet weather, the state and federal crop reports indicate a total yield of 453,623,000 bushels or about 30 per cent of normal—the largest corn crop in recent years. Other crops were about normal. The Iowa warehouse law is gaining popularity. The theory of the act is that the farmer will release his grain throughout the year instead of dumping it on the market immediately after the harvest. There are more than 70 warehouse boards in 50 counties of the state.

WISCONSIN LEADS

Wisconsin farmers reaped a record harvest in nearly all of the major crops, according to Paul O. Nyhus, federal-state agricultural statistician. He says that Wisconsin, in a field of 20 states stands out as the leader with yields 10 per cent better than average. Receipts of crops at markets indicate there is extensive holding. The Milwaukee chamber of commerce reports that total receipts for the five major grains in September were less than 3,500,000 as compared with more than 10,000,000 a year ago. The condition of the farmers' credit was said by Paul Stock Lake bank, to show a marked improvement over the last few years.

No bumper yields were reported from Illinois, but production was well adjusted to reasonable needs. Good crops of corn, oats and wheat were harvested. Credit conditions are described as normal with farmers being able to liquidate some of their debts of long standing. No organized holding of the corn crop by farmers has been reported.

Missouri farmers have marketed 63 per cent of their wheat crop, 91 per cent of their corn crop.

FARM DEPARTMENT MAY STOP ANCIENT USE OF MISTLETOE

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — If the department of agriculture has its way, kissing opportunities under the Christmas mistletoe will be abolished. The department doesn't object to the kissing, but to the mistletoe, which is regarded as a dangerous forest pest. A drive has been started against mistletoe in the national forests and within ten years the department hopes to exterminate the parasitic plant.

DEMOCRATS AND G. O. P. UNITED IN TAX SCHEME

Harmony Reigns in House Ways and Means Committee on Major Provisions

Washington, D. C. — (AP) — Practically united support both in the house and in committee of the tax reduction bill now in preparation by the house ways and means committee—is an almost unprecedented prospect—is now confidently expected by house leaders.

With virtually all of the vital and controversial points of tax reduction already acted upon by the committee, Chairman Green declared Saturday that a non-partisan measure "bearing almost unanimous support" seems certain.

For the first time since the war, Republicans and Democrats in committee have worked out their differences so far at least and agreed on the main provision of a revenue bill. In doing this, the committee has approved some of the main proposals of Secretary Mellon and rejected others, and the spirit of compromise was further reflected in the approval in modified form of the proposal of Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat, for increased personal exemptions.

Administration support of the changes so far approved seems certain, despite that Secretary Mellon's suggestion for repeal of the estate or inheritance tax was rejected.

After disposing Friday of several main provisions in the bill the committee rested Saturday to give subcommittee's opportunity to work out specific rate schedules on the income surtax and inheritance levies.

CASHIER AND GIRL FORCED INTO VAULT

Gunman Takes Currency Out of Cashier's Cage And Escapes in Automobile

PLANNED WITH CARE

Neighbor Sees Bandit at Work in Bank and Fires at Him as He Flees

Escaping amid a fusillade of bullets, a lone bandit is at large with about $400 in currency obtained during a holdup of Greenville State bank, Greenville, at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. Forcing O. G. Smith, cashier, and Miss Leona Fisch, assistant cashier, into the bank vault, he emptied a cash drawer and fled.

Shots were fired at the robber by Mr. Smith and Eugene Nelson, a neighbor who saw what was going on, but it is not known whether he was hit. Pursuit was attempted but the gunman drove at such terrific speed that he soon was out of sight. A police net was spread in many surrounding cities but the fugitive and his automobile were not seen anywhere.

The bandit is described as about 30 to 35 years of age, 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighing about 125 pounds. He has blue eyes and light complexion. The man was shabbily dressed in a brown overcoat. He was not masked but wore brown glasses. He drove a Buick 6-cylinder touring car and it bore Wisconsin license believed to be 303,777.

PLANNED WITH CARE

Plans for the holdup evidently were made with care, according to the story told by O. G. Smith, cashier. The man made a pretended business call there Friday, evidently to size up the institution, find out where the money was kept and the number of persons employed there. He was without his glasses then. He was waited upon at that time by Mr. Smith, who gave him change in response to a request. The man then began telling the cashier about a check for $60 drawn on Appleton State bank, which he had lost.

Nothing was suspected at the time but when it was learned that a bank robbery had been attempted the night previous at Bear Creek by a group of men with an automobile, the bank force and villagers wondered whether this man might have a similar scheme in mind. He had so little business to transact that he was somewhat under suspicion.

COMES ALONE

No further thought was given the matter, however, until 11 o'clock Saturday morning, when the man drove up to the door again in his automobile. He was alone and Mr. Smith does not recall whether he left his engine running.

Waiting until the cashier came out of the vault, the stranger engaged him in conversation again about the lost check. He talked easily about it and then casually made another request for change. As Mr. Smith drew the money drawer open the robber pulled his revolver and pointed it at the man behind the counter. His manner changed and he began giving orders in a curt and gruff manner.

FORCED INTO VAULT

Mr. Smith and Miss Fisch were alone in the bank at the time. He ordered them into the vault and attempted to hold the door but the combination had been turned slightly and the bolts would not budge. He told them to remain within and not move. He then crawled over the office railing far enough to reach the cash drawer. All

LONE BANDIT ROBS BANK AT GREENVILLE OF $400

The currency hands were seized and showed in his pockets. A checkup afterward indicated that it totaled about $400 but the exact sum could not be learned until the books were balanced for the day. This done, the bandit leaped into his car and sped southward at terrific speed.

TWO MEN SHOOT

Eugene Nelson, who lives across the street, had been told by Mr. Smith that the stranger's visit there Friday. When the man returned Mr. Nelson watched what was going on inside the bank. He saw that a holdup was in progress and hastened into his home to obtain a revolver. The cashier and the young woman were kept in the vault for about five minutes and when they heard the man depart the former rushed out, seized a revolver kept handy there and dashed outside. Mr. Nelson arrived just as the man was running to his automobile and fired twice. He does not know whether any of them took effect. Mr. Smith also discharged his revolver in the direction of the automobile.

Hastily spreading word to the Appleton and Oshkosh police, the bank official and others obtained an automobile and went in pursuit. The robber had driven at high speed and disappeared. The bandit car had been facing south from the bank. He took a straight course south, crossing the main Appleton-New London highway with a roar and dashing toward Oshkosh on state trunk highway 26. It is known that he did not turn off either toward Appleton or Dale when reaching highway 26 as he was seen between that point and Greenham corners by a rural mail carrier.

Chief George T. Prim and Driver Albert P. Delton of the Appleton police department armed themselves with high-powered rifles and rushed to Greenville. After obtaining a description of the bandit and the direction he took the police car was driven over many miles of highway south of Greenville, but without result.

Wisconsin Bankers association, Milwaukee, also was notified and has its detectives working on his case. The bank and its depositors will suffer no loss, as the institution carried burglary insurance.

SEARCHES MEN

The latter halted their car and Officer Delton leaped from the police car, ran over to the Studebaker, opened the front door and, with drawn revolver, ordered the men to get out. He searched each one for weapons and finding none, placed them into the police car. The two women were then ordered from the rear seat and likewise sent to the police car.

Leaving Mr. Zeidler with the fugitive machine, Officer Delton returned to the police car, placed his revolver beneath him and drove back to Appleton alone with his captives.

Had any of these under arrest attempted to overpower Officer Delton, all might have been killed because of the speed they were going. They apparently realized this and made no move to resist the driver.

The single-minded arrest made by Officer Delton was a most courageous feat. Chief Prim said Saturday morning. He showed exceptional daring and courage in returning the thieves to the city alone, and did so at a great risk to his own safety. Had his captives become unruly, he might have experienced considerable difficulty in handling them.

Mr. Zeidler also praised Officer Delton. He said it was a feat which few people would attempt, yet the officer showed no hesitancy in performing his duty.

Police Green Bay, Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha and Fond du Lac have been notified of the arrest, and have been asked by the local police department to determine whether any shoplifting has been discovered in their respective cities during the last few weeks. Chief Prim is of the opinion they may have been working in cities in the Fox River valley that length of time.

A large part of the stolen property which was found in the possession of the thieves has not yet been identified. Included in the unidentified property is a beautiful fur coat valued at more than $700. A woman, whom Chief Prim has been questioning, refuses to divulge where the coat was stolen.

He told Chief Prim he would "come clean" with everything stolen in this city, but he would never tell where the coat was taken, even if it meant a permanent prison.

Chief Prim said that the woman with the fur coat was seen in possession of the coat in the municipal court building at Appleton.

SEEK MORE WITNESSES AGAINST SCHOOL HEAD

Because two more witnesses were discovered Friday, the case of the state vs. P. E. Johnson, suspended Kimberly high school principal, in which testimony was taken Friday, will be reopened on Thursday, Nov. 12. Johnson was arrested Oct. 14 on a statutory charge preferred by a Kimberly high school girl. He entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in municipal court.

Testimony of the complaining witness Friday revealed the fact that two other witnesses could be secured for the state, and this information brought about the continuance of the action. Johnson did not take the stand Friday, but his wife and a friend testified that he was at home at the hour the alleged offense is said to have been committed.

of their oats crop and are harvesting the corn. Farmers are not much better off, reports to the state board of agriculture say, but the feeling is better and the outlook is somewhat brighter. The farmers credit is good compared to last year.

The Ohio farmer's dollar has a purchasing value of 83 cents, the highest since the war, according to compilations by the agricultural department of Ohio State university. They are getting an average of 20 per cent more for their products than last year and their financial condition is better than at any time since 1917. Crops are moving freely, with only the usual amount held back.

Indiana reported the largest crop in 25 years with good yields of other products. The Hoosier farmers are returning old notes, says Evans Woodson, president of the Fletcher Savings bank but Jerry Crane, secretary of the farm bureau declared that while it is true the farmers credits have improved, that farmers are retiring old notes and neglecting to make needed farm improvements. More than half the 250,000,000 bushel wheat crop will be pooled and distributed through the wheat growers pool of the Indiana Farm Bureau.

"So say they all!"

To date—conservatively calculated—250,000 owners...

Not such an impressive total as automobile registrations, en masse, are recorded today...

But—Willys-Knight owners are not "mass" owners...

They are a select lot. Select, and selective. The motor-car sophisticated. An owner-group value-wise.

Ask any Willys-Knight owner why he bought his Willys-Knight...

Ask him for a full and frank expression as to the satisfaction he has had in his car...

Ask him about engine-repair bills—about enforced lay-ups because of valve-grinding or carbon cleaning...

Question him about performance—about the condition of his engine, at 5,000 miles, at 25,000-and-50,000, at 75,000 miles or better...

And, above all, ask "If you ever had to buy another, what car would you next buy?"

An overwhelming majority of Willys-Knight owners will tell you they bought their present Willys-Knights for one, of two reasons—

Either they had previous first-hand experience with another Willys-Knight...

There has yet to be discovered the Willys-Knight owner who does not appear to exaggerate when the question of performance is to the fore. A sweet-running car, powerful, quiet, smooth, from the first turn of the engine—at 5,000 miles, as at 25,000-to-50,000, it is still more powerful, still smoother, still quieter. And at 75,000 miles-and-over, an even greater improvement is in evidence. For this car is driven by the patented Knight sleeve-valve engine, the only motor-mechanism that improves with use—the only engine that, up to a mileage-point still undetermined after 16 years' use, increases in power, increases in smooth and silent running, increases in all-around efficiency with every mile...

"Another Willys-Knight"—this is the answer, inevitably, to the query as to what car any one of the 250,000 present Willys-Knight owners again would buy. Extraordinary satisfaction. Extraordinary performance. Extraordinary long life. Naturally, your Willys-Knight owner is an enthusiastic owner. And he is steadfast in his loyalty. He will buy another Willys-Knight. He will recommend the same course to all who inquire.

He knows that neither you nor he can realize such perennially magnificent service in any other car!

NAB SHOPLIFTERS AND SEIZE LOOT VALUED AT $2,000

Police Officer Delton Makes Thrilling Capture of Quartet of Thieves

made a dash for the store. The thief, followed by Officer Delton, seized the loot and made a dash for the store. The thief, followed by Officer Delton, seized the loot and made a dash for the store. The thief, followed by Officer Delton, seized the loot and made a dash for the store.

As soon as Mr. Zeidler recognized the robber in the store he too called the police and asked that an officer meet him on College-ave immediately. Officer Delton left the station in the yellow car.

GET LICENSE NUMBER

The shoplifters, in the interim, had made a circuit through the Panny store, followed by Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Boida and Mr. Zeidler, and then across the front door and entered a large Studebaker car with a California top which was parked across the street in front of the George Walsh company. Mrs. Boida and Mr. Zeidler ran to the middle of the street and secured the license number of the car as it backed from the curb and sped east on College-ave. Two men were spied in the car.

FOLLOW WRONG CAR

A few minutes later Officer Delton had picked up Mr. Zeidler and after considering for a few seconds which way the thieves might have gone, turned south on S. Oneida-st bridge and then west on Foster-st toward Neenah. A large car ahead of them resembled the one they were looking for, but a closer inspection revealed it was a different machine.

Shortly before reaching the intersection of highway 15 with the street leading to the S. Cherry-st bridge, they saw the car they were looking for turn the corner and head for Neenah. Officer Delton pushed down the throttle on his car and pulled out alongside the Studebaker about a half mile farther. Both were traveling about 65 miles per hour.

As the car sped abreast down the road, Officer Delton drew out his revolver, told Mr. Zeidler to open the door nearest the Studebaker, and leveled his gun at the occupants of the escaping machine and ordered them to stop.

The latter halted their car and Officer Delton leaped from the police car, ran over to the Studebaker, opened the front door and, with drawn revolver, ordered the men to get out. He searched each one for weapons and finding none, placed them into the police car. The two women were then ordered from the rear seat and likewise sent to the police car.

Leaving Mr. Zeidler with the fugitive machine, Officer Delton returned to the police car, placed his revolver beneath him and drove back to Appleton alone with his captives.

Had any of these under arrest attempted to overpower Officer Delton, all might have been killed because of the speed they were going. They apparently realized this and made no move to resist the driver.

The single-minded arrest made by Officer Delton was a most courageous feat. Chief Prim said Saturday morning. He showed exceptional daring and courage in returning the thieves to the city alone, and did so at a great risk to his own safety. Had his captives become unruly, he might have experienced considerable difficulty in handling them.

Mr. Zeidler also praised Officer Delton. He said it was a feat which few people would attempt, yet the officer showed no hesitancy in performing his duty.

Police Green Bay, Oshkosh, Neenah-Menasha and Fond du Lac have been notified of the arrest, and have been asked by the local police department to determine whether any shoplifting has been discovered in their respective cities during the last few weeks. Chief Prim is of the opinion they may have been working in cities in the Fox River valley that length of time.

A large part of the stolen property which was found in the possession of the thieves has not yet been identified. Included in the unidentified property is a beautiful fur coat valued at more than $700. A woman, whom Chief Prim has been questioning, refuses to divulge where the coat was stolen.

He told Chief Prim he would "come clean" with everything stolen in this city, but he would never tell where the coat was taken, even if it meant a permanent prison.

Chief Prim said that the woman with the fur coat was seen in possession of the coat in the municipal court building at Appleton.

WEEK OF PRAYER IS OBSERVED BY Y. M. C. A. OF U. S.

Appleton Association Will Hold Services in Connection With National Prayer
Week

Preparations for the observance of National Y. M. C. A. week of prayer in Appleton are being made by officers of the local association. The week is from Nov. 8 to 14 and is observed in every association of the country. The local organization will have no outside program but members of the employed staff will gather for conference and prayer at 9 o'clock each morning during the week. Anyone interested is invited to take part in these conferences. The boys' division will have a program in cooperation with local churches jointly with the Father and Son week program which is observed during the same week. Special speakers will talk at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Hi-Y club.

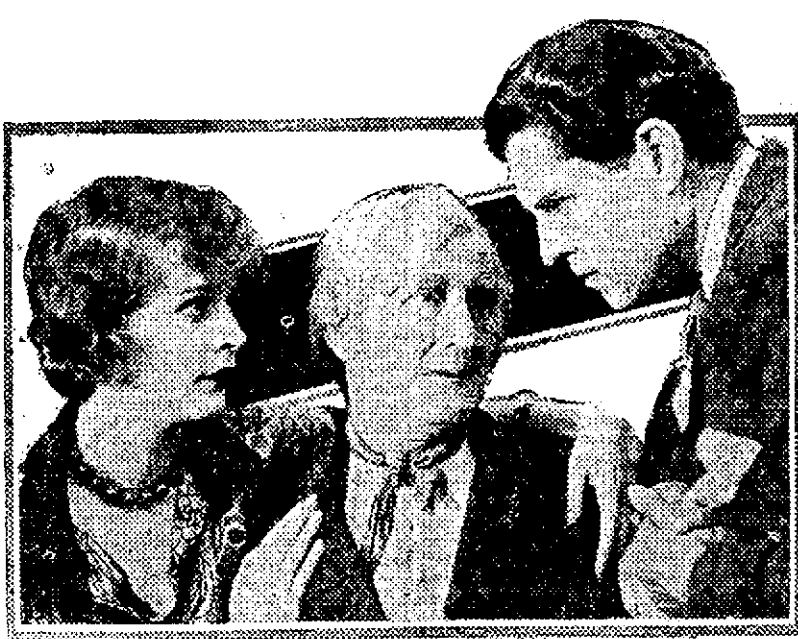

The program for the week of prayer is a study of God and Youth and a special topic is taken up each day. The leading thought for the week is God in Christ and Man's Need. Topics for each day of the week follow:

Sunday—God in Man; Monday—Man's Reach Toward God; God's Perfect Revelation to Man; Tuesday—God and Sin in Personal Life; Wednesday—Sin and Lordship of Christ in Life of a nation; Thursday—The Division Between Nations and the Unity of God's Kingdom; Friday—Deified Christendom and the One Christ; Saturday—God's Victory and Our Obedience.

The proclamation calling attention to the observance of the week as received at the local association, issued on behalf of the general board of the national council of the Young Men's Christian associations of the United States, says:

"We unite with the World's committee in calling upon all the Y. M. C. A. s of the United States of America to observe Nov. 8 to 14, 1925, as a week of prayer for young men and boys. The vital significance of this union in prayer must continue to grow upon the members of our brotherhood, and this for the basic reason that it rests upon the authority of the teaching and example of our Lord. True it is that if the association is to become more like Christ in His relation to men, it must become more like Him in His relation to God in prayer.

"The coming Week of Prayer assumes special significance as we look forward to the World's Conference, to

ALTER APPEARANCE OF OLD METHODIST CHURCH

Work of remodeling the old Methodist church for the new Knights of Pythias lodge building is progressing rapidly. The vestibule and portion of the auditorium under the balcony is being converted into a parlor and a partition is now being erected to separate the front part of the main room from the section under the balcony. The front of the auditorium will be the main lodge room and ball room. The platform also is being altered to conform to the needs of the lodge. The work of taking down the church steeple has been retarded by high winds, but is now almost completed. The main entrance to the building will be on the side, and the space now occupied by doors will be largely taken up with four large windows. Small towers will flank either side of the front of the structure.

FREEDOM FARM SOLD TO SATISFY MORTGAGE

to $4,844.84, and the property was sold for $7,000. The present occupant of the farm is Jacob Ebbesen. It is said that Lambert Vandenberg bid in the farm for his brother, Martin Vandenberg, one of the defendants in the foreclosure sale. Martin Vandenberg held a second mortgage on the place.

PROMPT ACTION ON TAX REDUCTION

It is authoritatively announced from Washington that a tentative agreement has been reached to reduce federal taxes next year by a minimum of $300,000,000. This is a larger cut than the administration had expected to be able to make six months ago, and larger than the country had dared hope for. It is a very great reduction, considering the total expenditures of the government in the past and the economies it indirectly represents in the administration of the country's finances.

The house ways and means committee has increased the exemptions in the new tax bill to a maximum of $8,500 for heads of families, which will remove, it is estimated, 1,000,000 persons from the tax rolls. This is principally a concession to politics, but it is reasonable. More important is the decision of the committee to reduce the maximum surtax rates from 40 to 20 per cent, as recommended by Secretary Mellon, and to eliminate the publicity clause.

It begins to look as though the administration would be able to agree upon a definite tax measure and put it through the house without much delay. Chairman Green of the ways and means committee appears to be in a conciliatory mood. Whether the rates will be satisfactory to the treasury department remains to be seen. It is too soon to say that politics will not try to block scientific revision. It is the application of all the rates that count, rather than the maximum and minimum. However, it is predicted that a bill will be passed by the house before the Christmas holidays.

It is to be hoped that this will be done, and that the bill will have the approval of Mr. Mellon, for it will reflect political harmony within the Republican party that would give business increased confidence. Legislative uncertainty has always a depressing effect on commerce and industry. Everything seems to be set nationally for strong business revival and greater prosperity during 1926. The country has the necessary confidence in the wisdom and judgment of the president and his cabinet. If there is any crossing of fingers it is with respect to congress.

It would be a splendid thing as well as a notable event if for once congress could bring itself to actually consider the administration's recommendations on their merit, to follow the guidance of the president and cooperate in the carrying out of his policies. It would be a most refreshing change and the entire country would profit by it. A prompt agreement as to tax reduction would be the first evidence of such a disposition.

MUSSOLINI A STORM CENTER

Italy is in an uproar over an attempt on the life of Premier Mussolini which came very near being successful. The conspiracy appears to be the result of a plot in high opposition circles. Mussolini becomes the hero of one of the greatest demonstrations Rome has witnessed in its long history, appearing on a balcony before an enormous crowd which fairly rocks Rome with its frantic applause.

The public will gather from the press dispatches that the Italian dictator still commands a large majority of the people, which is probably true. He has not yet reached the point where he is compelled to depend for power wholly on the use of force, although he applies force ruthlessly when the opportunity arises. He has done a great deal for the reconstruction of Italy, and he has maintained order and has been able to carry out a definite program, which is more than can be said for some of the other more democratically governed nations of Europe. Italy has fared better under him than it would have fared as a republic. Nevertheless, Mussolini is the storm center of a bitter division of opinion. His methods are such, both in his domestic and foreign policies, as to invite hatreds and uncompromising hostility. Outwardly this opposition is well suppressed, but nevertheless it exists and is a menace to his authority as well as to his life.

A few days ago a disclosure was made of a secret treaty alleged to have been made between Mussolini and Russia, in which they declare their interests in eastern Europe to be identical, and in which the paramount interests of Italy in Jugoslavia are recognized. Russia also binds herself, according to this published agreement, to assist Italy in the event of war with Turkey, and Italy promises to give moral support to Russia in case of a war between Russia and Turkey. The treaty, which appears on the surface to be genuine, is interpreted as an alliance between Mussolini and the soviets, and it is charged by the opposition that his real political sentiments are bolshevik. This disclosure has intensified the feeling against him.

In the end it is not improbable that Mussolini will meet the fate of most dictators, or that he will be forcibly overthrown. Although he is momentarily representing the government best calculated for her advancement and prosperity, Italy nevertheless may be nearer to civil war than the world realizes.

WHAT CENTURY DO YOU LIVE IN?

It is impossible for a person to be in two places at the same time, but it is possible to live in two centuries, or even more, at the same time. It is no infrequent experience to find a farm equipped with the most advanced improvements in machinery for the fields and the most primitive and inadequate devices still in use in the house. The barn will be organized according to 1925 and the house according to 1850.

Occasionally successful men refuse to assist their sons in getting a college education, declaring that they have succeeded without college education, and that therefore the son can. But those fathers would not consider starting the sons out to compete with gas tractors equipped only with ox teams. The intellectual equipment must be kept abreast of the mechanical equipment of business.

It is not at all unusual for a business man to be alert to every progressive movement within the line of his business and still be living in the moral or social world of a hundred years ago when the motto of every business was "let the buyer beware." Political leaders versed in every modern concept of military science sometimes are found in the midst of the diplomacy of the eighteenth century.

The difficulty with many who assert that science and religion are in disagreement is that they are contrasting the science of today with the religion of day before yesterday.

Expertness in one field does not entitle one to speak with authority in another. The modern business man may be an ancient religionist and the ancient scientist may be remarkably modern in his religious faith. It will pay any man, before speaking with finality upon subjects in which he is not expert, to discover what century he is living in.

LET IN THE SUNLIGHT

Ultraviolet light (the invisible rays which are present in sunlight, the electric carbon arc light, the mercury vapor electric lamp, but of course not in the pretty light given off by the toy called "violet rays" which readily passes through quartz crystal but is practically screened out by glass. It is not enough, therefore, to provide ample window space in the living room and to resist the deadly impulse to cover the windows with dewdags which shut out the light; if you want health and happiness to come in at the window you must open the window wide, or else go to the enormous expense of glazing the window with panes of fused quartz.

These precious invisible light rays beyond the blue or violet of the spectrum or rainbow have the property of increasing our natural resistance or immunity to infectious diseases, particularly the respiratory infections which are responsible for most of the illness doctors see. The ultraviolet rays enable the body to develop its own natural germicidal material which is always necessary for the destruction of disease germs which get into the system; if the germs are not destroyed disease develops.

Metabolism, the constant combustion of food fuel and tissue substance to produce muscular and organic energy and heat in the body, is profoundly influenced by ultraviolet light. Among the improvements in metabolism brought about by ultraviolet light is better utilization of calcium (milk) and phosphorus in the body. Both of these important elements of the body are present in higher concentration in the blood after exposure of the naked skin to ultraviolet light, from sunlight or either of the artificial sources mentioned.

Aside from the prevention and cure of rickets in infants, the proper utilization of calcium and phosphorus in the body is essential for normal development and growth of the bones. If you want the children to grow straight and big and strong, tear down the window shades, discard the draperies, remove the awning and open the windows.

The average stature of Yankee soldiers was found to be about three inches greater than that of English soldiers in the world war. For that matter there was nothing very small about the Canucks in the war either. The amount of ultraviolet light in England is far below the amount in the sunlight in these United States and Canadian states and provinces. Maybe that accounts for it. Then, too, our best physical specimens are found in the mountain regions where the largest possible proportion of ultraviolet light is available. This may not seem to live well with the notably low stature of the sons of sunny Italy, yet the stature of men from the mountains of Italy is greater than that of men from the valleys.

Civilized urban life shuts off most of the ultraviolet rays which we should receive. Indoor occupations and amusements, glass windows, smoke, dust and fog in the atmosphere, and the unnecessary excess of clothing worn by men, women, children and even infants for the sake of custom, fashion, modesty or superstitious fears of "exposure," contribute toward our deprivation. In the winter season, particularly, the proportion of ultraviolet rays in the sunlight is at the lowest point.

Ultraviolet rays markedly raise the iron content of the blood and frequently seem to produce a marked increase in the number of blood corpuscles, both the red corpuscles and the white corpuscles.

Ultraviolet rays have probably prevented and cured more baldness than all the alleged "restoratives" thus far concocted.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

It Is Safe Enough

Recently I answered an offer in a magazine and received a booklet from an eminent physician who said the best way to remove moles is to send for a remedy he has perfected for $5. He guarantees it. Would you consider this method safe to try?

Answer—Oh, it is safe enough—for the quick. Our American business ethics permits such methods of separating fools from their loose money. That is how a lot of our aristocracy acquired it.

Don't Worry

A comforting message to a tried world prepared especially for the Post-Crescent by the Rev. E. P. Nuss, pastor of First Reformed church.

"Therefore I say unto you, be not anxious for your life, what you shall eat, nor yet for your body, what you shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body more than the raiment? Be not anxious for the morrow; for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Matthew 6: 25-34.

This is often called the "don't worry" passage. The familiar phrase, "take no thought," as recorded in the King James version of the Bible fails to bring out the correct idea to the reader of today. Our Lord was not warning against FORESIGHT but against WORRY. Hence later translators have made different attempts to bring out the true meaning of the original Greek phrase. The American revision translates, "Be not anxious." Weymouth is more cautious, "be not over-anxious." Moffatt comes closest to common speech with "do not trouble," while Ferrar borrows the words of daily life, "do not fret about tomorrow."

One of the familiar pictures in the older geographies was that of a man with bent back, careworn face and staggering walk, bearing the world on his shoulder. It represented the healthful idea of the universe—the world placed by the gods on the shoulders of one man. In my childhood I felt very sorry for the poor fellow so terribly overburdened, and feared very much for the inhabitants of the earth, if the old man's back should break and the earth come down with a crash. Later I learned that this healthful idea was after all a true symbol of many a man. Experience reveals a great multitude of persons, each of whom is striving, with all his might, to carry the world, acting as if the whole world were placed on his shoulders and he alone were responsible for keeping the world from crashing to pieces.

FORGET TOMORROW

To this human spirit of useless worry and care, the words of Christ are directed: "Take no thought" or better, "Be not anxious for the morrow, for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Why be troubled or over-anxious about the morrow? Why worry about it? Why try to bear tomorrow's burdens today? Today's difficulties and burdens are all that you are expected to deal with. Live one day at a time. Do well today's task, and leave the morrow unto itself. This is the meaning of Christ's word. He does not encourage indolence, improvidence or carelessness but emphatically declares the uselessness and folly of anxiety.

God has not put the world on your shoulders. "I bear up the pillars of the earth." He has not left the government of the earth to you. "For the kingdom is the Lord's and He is the governor over the nations." He has not even left you to provide for yourself without help from Him. He who clothes the grass of the field gives beauty and fragrance to the flowers, shall He not also provide for you? So why fret and worry about the material necessities of life? "Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. But seek ye first the kingdom of God and the righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." God has made worry needless.

WORRY IS USELESS

Anxiety is useless! What can you accomplish by worry? You cannot see what tomorrow holds, either good or bad. If you worry could accomplish anything there might be some use in it. But since it cannot, it is worse than useless.

Anxiety is foolish! What folly to attempt what is both needless and useless! What folly to worry about what, after all often turns out to be the best we could wish for! How many make themselves miserable over things they imagine evil, but which issue in blessings! How many rivers we try to bridge, which we never will have to cross! How much suffering we anticipate, which never even comes near us! And then there are our real troubles and burdens, which we greatly increase by our worrying. So why worry about trouble before it comes, an which in most cases never comes? Why always look at the dark side of things? Is there a cloud so dark, but what it has a silver lining?

Anxiety unmakes us! You lie awake tonight worrying about what may come tomorrow, and by the time the morrow comes you have made yourself both mentally and physically unfit and unprepared for the duties that do come. You are like a soldier who fires all his ammunition at an imaginary foe, and when the real foe comes he has nothing left. If men would only save the strength they waste in foolish worry, how much more capable and courageous they would be to bear the real burdens of life.

But how may I overcome my anxiety? By faith in God, who is your kind and loving heavenly Father, ever ready and willing to provide all things good for you, and who matches all things work together for the good to those who believe and trust in Him. "No good thing will He withhold from him who seeketh uprightly." It is said that during one of the most critical battles of the Civil war, the commanding officer in great excitement came to General Grant, telling him that the troops were giving way before the superior strength of the enemy, that the day was lost, and that immediate retreat was imperative. But General Grant, picking up a piece of wood and whittling at it for a few moments, finally looked up into the face of the officer and said, "I don't believe it." He had such a strong confidence in the plan and power of his forces, that he could not believe failure possible. A few hours later Grant's forces achieved a glorious victory.

With Grant's faith in his troops, let us with unwavering faith in our God, view the fretting, frightening, threatening affairs and seeming doubts of life. "In this God's world there are no accidents." An omnipotent God is controlling and guiding all things well. Do not worry. Do not fret. Do not get panicky! Rest in the Lord and wait patiently for Him. Trust also in Him and He shall bring it to pass. Therefore work without worrying; trust without fearing! Have faith in God!

Q. What furs are considered delicate? R. D. K.

A. Among them are fox, mink, squirrel, platinum-dyed lamb, chinchilla, mole, broadtail, caracul, and wild cat.

Q. Is it possible to grow a bush of tomatoes on one plant? W. H. S.

A. The Bureau of Plant Industry says that it is not beyond the bounds of possibility to produce one bush of tomatoes from a single plant. The yield is received, however, by giving individual attention to the plant, allowing plenty of room, liberal feeding and fertilizing. A trellis must also be erected over which the plant can extend its shoots. There is little advantage in trying to get a maximum yield from a single plant, for when the attention is centralized on one plant rather than six, the plant takes the space of five or six ordinary plants and the possible failure, due to insect pests or disease is greater. As many as fifteen pounds of tomatoes can be gathered from one vine with out abnormal effort on the part of the grower.

Q. Where is the golden spike driven on that united the Central Pacific and Union Pacific? R. A. C.

A. The ceremony occurred at Promontory, Utah, May 10, 1869.

Q. What does the slang term "boober" mean? M. W.

A. It is commonly used in the Navy in speaking of one who shirks his work or one who is always looking for easy jobs, and does no more than is absolutely necessary.

Q. Has a census of illiterates been taken lately, or will one be taken in the near future? H. L. C.

A. In a campaign to reduce illiteracy in the United States, a complete census of illiterates will be taken within the next year. The census is to be made by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. This organization is cooperating with the Bureau of Education in an effort to reduce illiteracy in the country before the 1930 census. The American Federation of Labor has also agreed to assist in the campaign. Among other national associations taking part in the campaign are the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, the American Red Cross, and the American Legion. The Daughters of the American Revolution and the National Society of Colonial Dames of America have the matter under advisement and are expecting to give the whole program support. The plans call for the completion of the census of illiterates by November, 1926.

Q. From what kinds of metal was the framework of the Shenandoah made? B. L. B.

A. It was a duralumin, a composition of aluminum, copper, and manganese which has a tensile strength of mild steel and was only one-third of its weight.

BURGLARY CASE THROWN OUT OF MILWAUKEE COURT

Court Holds Landlady's Story
Is Insufficient to Hold Kaukauna Man

Kaukauna—Edward Hintz, Kaukauna young man, recently arrested here on complaint of the police department of Milwaukee was acquitted of a charge of burglary when Judge Shaugnessy of the Municipal court at Milwaukee threw the case out of court for lack of evidence.

Hintz was accused by a former landlady of stealing $300. Just before the money was missed Hintz had left that boarding house and it was because of his leaving that he was suspected. The local police department had been notified that the young man was wanted and when he appeared in Kaukauna he was immediately arrested and the department at Milwaukee was notified of his detention.

Hintz's case came before the judge Wednesday and after hearing the landlady's tale, the judge dismissed the case for lack of evidence.

I was very nervous and suffered from headaches. The doctors I had, failed to help me much. Then I noticed an advertisement recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription so I started taking it and soon felt better. I continued this medicine until I was well. Now I am glad to tell what this medicine did for me."

If you want to be well, start at once with this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's. Get it from your neighborhood druggist, in tablets or liquid; send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. Write for free medical advice.

Day and John Jennings sections of property near the railway depot in this city. The hearing on the case will be taken into circuit court before Judge Byron B. Park on Nov. 20 - Wausau. The property near the depot is already being used by the railroad company.

Piers Soon Done
New London—Completion of the new piers for the S. Pearl-st bridge is being rushed this week by Albert Gesse, street superintendent, and his crew. Old sections of sewer and water tile are being broken up and used for ballast around the newly laid concrete piers, and it is expected that the work will be completed in a very short time.

END BUNION PAIN FOREVER

No Need to Suffer Another Day
Those Agonizing Torturing Pains

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflamed, swollen toe joints and get them down to normal and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil at night and morning and people who suffer from such enlargements would be wise to reduce them before they reach a more or less chronic stage.

Ask Voigt's Drug Store or any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal. adv.

The McDonald Music Mixers, a jazz orchestra well known in vaudeville, will headline the Sunday show at the Appleton theater and will offer pleasing musical novelties, with enjoyable comedy and red hot jazz. The offering is one which will doubtless score great favor with jazz hungry Appleton theatergoers and will attract many visitors from neighboring points.

Esther Wexler and Esther Joy, "The Two Personality Girls," who are favorites with radio listeners, will contribute popular songs and some of their own creations. They are charming young girls.

Clifford and Purteil in a comedy skit entitled "Modern Matrimony" will afford many laughs and in connection with their comedy will entertain with vocal numbers.

The Woodwards, extra added feature, will portray "Hank the Mule and His Trainer," an offering familiar to those who have seen "The Follies of 1909" or "The Tick Tock Man of Oz," for the comedy mule and his gill trainer are best remembered of the many good things in these two shows.

The feature photoplay "The Chorus Lady" will be shown in conjunction featuring Margaret Livingston, Alan Roscoe, Philo McCullough and Athene.

BARTHELMESS HERE IN NEW COMEDY HIT

"Shore Leave," showing at the Appleton theater today and tomorrow, Richard Barthelmess with another delightful amusing characterization, that of "Bilge" Smith, a happy-go-lucky sailor in Uncle Sam's Atlantic fleet.

Barthelmess gives a delightful performance of the "gob." The New York critics pronounced it to be his best work in some time. Although this is the young star's second comedy role in a short time, the other being the distraught husband of "New Toys" it is not generally known that Barthelmess made his first film successes as a comedian.

INTERNATIONAL EPIC
IS BOLDLY DEPICTED IN FOX PHOTODRAMA

A stirring photodrama, based on a man's love of country and a woman's love of man, made sensational and spectacular by storms and a tremendous naval battle, at the New Bijou theater four days starting Monday under the title, "As No Man Has Loaned." It is recognizable by students of literature and history as Edward Everett Hale's immortal story, "The Man Without a Country."

This production, which comes from William Fox, is one of the six most massive and expensive productions of the year, and under the skillful direction of Rowland V. Lee it takes high rank for artistic merit and daring treatment. The storm off the Carolina Capes, with an American battleship thundering in the moon from aloft, fifty cannon roar, the tall-masted ship, is marvellous. Also there is a stupendous battle scene between an American ship of war and a huge pirate slave ship. In this thrilling fleet six hundred men are engaged. Masts and spars crash and amazingly deflected

BIG STRIDES BY NEW BOILER SHOP IN FIRST YEAR

Fox River Boiler Works, Less Than Year Old, Growing by Leaps and Bounds

A new industrial establishment in Appleton, which has flourished far beyond the expectations of its founders, is the Fox River Boiler Works at 501 S. Rounds-st., northwest of Appleton Junction. The boiler works was started in May as a small repair shop by E. J. Fernal and A. W. Van Ryzin. Since then an addition has been built to the plant, a separate office building has been erected, and another addition to the factory is contemplated for the near future.

Mr. Fernal and Mr. Van Ryzin are experienced boiler makers, each having had 14 years experience in one of the large boiler factories of the Fox River valley. They started their new business as a partnership, but after a short time incorporated the Fox River Boiler Works for $10,000. Mr. Fernal is president of the company, Mr. Van Ryzin is vice president and treasurer and Charles Courtney is secretary.

In addition to the manufacture of boilers, the Fox River Boiler Works makes a specialty of manufacturing smoke stacks, structural steel for buildings and steel tanks. The company also does sheet iron work and manufactures steel plate. A large order was recently placed with the new boiler company for two carloads of structural steel. At present the concern is manufacturing its first large boiler, which will be sent to one of the paper mills of the Fox River valley.

A large refuse bin was recently manufactured for a Kaukauna Paper mill, and other paper mill equipment has been turned out for Fox River valley concerns.

The Fox River Boiler works is equipped with the most modern machinery and tools to do all kinds of steel work. When first starting to manufacture, the company bought its steel in small quantities, a few tons at a time, but this material is now being bought in carload lots, making it possible to give much quicker and better service on all orders.

Mr. Fernal and Mr. Van Ryzin had no employees when they started their partnership five months ago. They now have 12 men working in the boiler shop, and if conditions continue as they have during the past few months more men will be hired. The company is located in a section of town where it has ample room for expansion in future years.

Average House Rent Down 5 Per Cent From Year Ago

Babson Park, Mass.—Roger W. Babson today, in his weekly exclusive interview in this paper, discusses the rent situation in which this community, as well as others, is very much interested. Mr. Babson's official statement is as follows:

"Statistics from about 180 localities show that rents have declined during the past twelve months about 4 per cent. While statistics are not available for the entire country, it is probably safe to say that rents today average 5 per cent lower than a year ago. On July, 1924, rents were at the highest figures for the past twenty years and averaged 86 per cent above 1914. Since July, 1924, there has been a slow but constant decline.

GREATEST INCREASE

"When we compare rents today with pre-war rents we find that the greatest increase is naturally in the most rapidly growing cities like Los Angeles and Detroit. This is not a criticism of these cities but is the inevitable result of rapid growth. Los Angeles are still about 120 per cent above pre-war rents although they were 160 per cent above pre-war times a year ago. San Francisco rents, on the other hand, show an advance of only about 50 per cent over the pre-war level. It will be only natural for those cities where rents have increased the most to have the heaviest decline during the next few years. This is in accordance with the law of action and reaction. What goes up must come down fastest. When the pendulum swings far to the right it likewise must swing far to the left. A leveling process is going on throughout the country all the time in stock prices, commodities, and rents. When security prices are abnormally high in any one group investors turn to another group. When wheat is out of line with corn people try to use more corn; when abnormally high rents in any one city tend to increase the building in that city which ultimately results in a surplus of houses and apartments and hence brings about lower rents than the average. Water always seeks its level in every phase of life.

WHERE RENTS ARE LOWER

"Statistics indicate that from the tenant's viewpoint, the cheapest cities in which to live are Bay City, Michigan; Billings and Butte, Montana; and Sedalia, Missouri. It is even said that a six room house to live in can be hired for less today than ten years ago. Comparatively low rents are also the rule in Bridgeport, Connecticut; Springfield, Ohio; Augusta, and Savannah, Georgia; Charleston and Columbia, South Carolina; Davenport, Iowa; El Paso and Fort Worth, Texas; Mobile, Alabama; Flint, Michigan; Omaha, Nebraska; Portsmouth and Roanoke, Virginia; Superior, Wisconsin; Tacoma, Washington; and Wichita, Kansas. Rents in these cities on July of this year, were not more than 30 per cent higher than before the war.

"In contrast to these cities the National Association of Real Estate Boards reports that certain small cities have shown greater increases of rents than Los Angeles, Detroit, and New York. For instance, Johnston, Pennsylvania rents are near 200 per cent higher than 1914 levels, while rents in Knoxville, Wisconsin are 160 per cent higher, and Louisville, Kentucky rents are 150 per cent above pre-war figures. Of the 225 cities reported 72 per cent at present indicate stationary conditions, although, with the exception of Bay City, Billings, Butte and Sedalia, all show an increase over pre-war figures. Of these 225 cities 20 per cent now show declining rents and only 8 per cent report rising rents.

NO BUILDING SHORTAGE

"The building shortage which developed during the war is fast being overcome, and many authorities believe it has been fully compensated. Only a few cities now report a shortage of dwellings, while many cities report over-building of some form. In most cases this over-building is for business purposes, hotels, or expensive apartment houses. Where any shortage exists today it is in the six room house and the small apartment. This over-building seems to be the most pronounced in the Eastern section of the country where there is a tendency for lowering rents, especially for business offices and apartments.

"The past few months the only section of the country which has shown a distinct tendency toward higher rents is Florida. Moreover, in two or three sections of that state rents are truly out of reason, and no one realizes this more than the Florida authorities who are trying to keep excessive rents down and stabilize the situation.

"Rents per room in the large cities of the country are about double the same kind of property in the small cities. Rents vary from $7.50 per month per room in cities of 25,000 population to $10 per room per month in cities of over 500,000 while in the very large cities this runs up to $15 per room per month. When it comes to apartments, they run from $10 per room per month in the small cities to $35 per room per month in the largest cities.

RENTS IN CANADA

"The best living conditions on the American Continent today are probably found in Canada. The Canadians have been noted for building substantial buildings with good sized rooms and plenty of light and air. Of course rents in Canada are greater than before the war but they show no such increase as do rents in the United States. At the present time no Canadian cities report increasing rents in any type of building. Moreover, a downward tendency is evident in single family dwellings in many Dominion cities.

"These statements should be carefully read and understood by people who are thinking of leaving Canada and coming to the States. When one considers the rents and cost of living here I wonder if the people of the States have any more money left at the end of a month than if they worked and lived in Canada. Moreover, there is something in life on our part of the globe, there is a health, vigor and freedom in connection with living in Canada which is probably unequalled in any other part of the world.

MORTGAGE BONDS

"It is not my province to refer in detail to real estate mortgage bonds in this talk. Every issue is distinct by anything but generalities. A bond issue on a certain apartment house in a certain city may be a secure investment, while a bond issue on another apartment house a few blocks away may be very questionable. Not only is the amount of the mortgage very important but the location of the property and the purpose for which it is to be used should be considered. It is, however, common sense that it is much safer to purchase real estate bonds when building costs are low and rents are low than when building costs are as high as at present. Probably it is in view of this situation that real estate companies are now getting surety companies to guarantee these issues. For instance, a well known surety company obligates itself to pay the face of the mortgage note without recourse to the collateral deed of trust or the primary obligor, which means that in the remote contingency of any default, the holder of the mortgage (or participation certificate) is not obliged to concern himself with the foreclosure or sale of the property, but need look only to this surety company. The only reservation is that the surety company may, if it deems it wise, take a period of twelve months for the payment of the guaranteed principal, but in the event that it chooses to take all or any part of this grace period, it is obligated to pay full interest at the rate of 6 per cent annum during the interim.

"I have the highest respect for these surety companies and believe they are doing a good thing for the holders of real estate mortgages. It, however, is a general principle of finance that an investor should look to the signer of the mortgage rather than to the endorser. The old investor who remembers what happened to the great mass of railroad bonds which were sold fairly years ago on the basis of the payment of the interest by their guaranties will be very shy in now buying bonds on guaranties which he does not know are intrinsically good. However, this is not meant to be a criticism of any special securities but a general principle of finance which all business men should keep in mind in connection with their transactions. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. In this connection let me add that the weakest link today in the financial situation of the country as a whole is the stock market. It is in a position which may do considerable harm to business unless people quit gambling in the stock market. Order files contracted at 12 per cent above normal investors will do well to take profits in the New York stock market and invest the same in conservative local mortgages."

LUMBER DEMAND DROPS AS BUILDING CEASES

Demand for softwoods shows a tendency to taper off as the construction program reaches its final stages but there is enough uncompleted building to necessitate retailers making replenishments of yard stocks before they begin buying for spring requirements, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. In the meantime the industry remains in a healthy position. Orders booked by 332 of the principal mills during the week ended Oct. 3 were 8 percent below production. It is true, but total orders for the year to date are less than one-third of a single week's output under the year's output. Shipments for the week were on a par with production, so that there has been no addition to mill stocks. Mixed car orders continue to rule the favorite with buyers.

CLOTHES CLEANER IS MONEY, TIME SAVER IN HOME

Appleton Man Perfects Preparation Which Is Boon to Housewives

John Wollenberg, proprietor of the Wollenberg Auto Radiator Works, 124 S. Walnut-st., has invented and perfected a preparation for washing and cleaning clothes, called the Universal Washing compound, which will be a joy to every housewife, as it has been found to be one of the most efficient and one of the least expensive washing compounds on the market today.

Universal Washing compound contains no lye, caustic, or potash and is absolutely non-injurious to the fabric in cloth, and to the hands. Universal Washing compound is the most economical washing powder on the market as a 1 pound package is sufficient for from 15 to 16 ordinary washings while other washing compounds require from one half a pound to a pound for a single washing. Two or three tablespoons full of Universal Washing compound are sufficient for an average washing.

Not only is Universal Washing compound a clothes saver, and a money saver, but it is also a labor saver. Clothes which are only dirty from being worn for some time need only to be soaked in water in which some Universal Washing compound has been dissolved, and they will be cleaned. Clothes which are stained with grease, or other stains hard to remove should be cleaned in a washing machine in which a few tablespoons full of Universal Washing compound has been dissolved, and all stains will be removed.

Universal Washing compound is excellent for many other purposes in addition to washing clothes such as cleaning of floors, tilework, dishes, milk bottles, milk cans, dairy utensils, windows, glassware, sinks, refrigerators, wash bowls, and bathtubs. It will readily remove such stains as grease, iodine and blood. It is a fine preparation for the bath making the water soft, cleansing the skin.

Mr. Wollenberg has been manufacturing Universal Washing compound for about a year. He worked for many months to get a powder which would be economical, non-injurious to hands and cloth, and one which could be used for many purposes. The compound is on sale at most Appleton grocery stores.

who are so insistent on immediate shipment that the mills are turning down orders where quick delivery cannot be guaranteed.

Southern pine trading during the current week was lighter than for the preceding week, orders running 4 per cent under production, compared with the activity throughout the Florida and Texas are consuming record amounts of lumber and demand in other southern States is expected to expand as soon as the cotton crop is marketed. Stocks are not excessive, and uppers and timbers are actually scarce. Common are more plentiful as the peak of demand is now past, but prices as a rule continue steady.

A decline in sales to Atlantic coast and midwestern buyers was largely responsible for air bookings falling 5 percent below production, as the California and export markets showed little change. Order files contracted slightly with slowing up in business, but shipments 1 percent in excess of production prevented any accumulation of stocks, which remain low, although the mills are operating at capacity. Florida is being considered as a possible market by the cargo mills and if the movement to this State during the winter is heavy enough it is possible the market will take on new firmness. Common show signs of weakness, but uppers are steady at current levels.

Heavy shipments of both northern and southern hardwoods are bringing stocks into good balance and trade is active with practically all the large active with practically all the large consuming industries. Prices are firm.

COUNCIL RETAINS $5,000 AND ACCEPTS PAVING

SIGN CONTRACT TO HOLD MONEY UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Two Aldermen Object to Accepting Pavement Declared to Be Unsatisfactory

Reversing its action of Wednesday night, the common council voted to accept the pavement on N. Lave-st, N. Meade, E. John, N. Bateman and E. Franklin-sts. at a special meeting Friday afternoon. The vote was ten for and two against acceptance, the dissenting votes being cast by Aldermen George T. Richard and Mike Steinhauser.

Acceptance of the pavement was made subject to a contract with the White Construction company in which the contractor agrees that the city shall retain $5,000 until repairs are made to put the street in a satisfactory condition.

The contract reads that the construction company agrees to allow the city to retain $5,000 as additional security to keep the pavement in good order and repair, the money not to be returned longer than July 1, 1926, provided the pavement has been put in good condition by that time.

ADMITS POOR JOB
Walter H. Flood, president of the White Construction Co. of Chicago, employed by the city to inspect the pavement while it was being laid, and Frank Coughlin, contractor for the White Construction Co., were present at the meeting. Both gave their opinion of the work on the streets and answered questions of the aldermen.

After Mr. Flood had termed the work on the pavement as an "average job" but admitted it "is not as good as it might be in a few places," the council resolved itself into the committee of the whole, returning about an hour and a half later with the resolution recommending acceptance of the pavement, with reservations.

Here is the resolution adopted by the council:

"Resolved, That the pavement on the following streets, viz: Lave-st, Meade-st, John-st, Bateman-st and Franklin-st, be accepted, subject, however, to the retention of $5,000 by the city as an additional security by the contractor to make whatever repairs are necessary to put said streets in good order in the opinion of the board of public works. And

"Subject to a written contract with the White Construction Co. bearing even date herewith, and accepting the pavement on the streets above named."

WRITES CONTRACT
Alfred Besser, city attorney, then prepared the following contract which the city entered into with the White Construction Co.: "Whereas, The White Construction Co. paved N. Lave-st between North-st and Wisconsin-ave by contract entered into between the City of Appleton, a municipal corporation of Outagamie Co., Wis., and

"Whereas, that portion of said pavement was laid during inclement weather, and some doubt exists in the minds of some of the members of the common council of the City of Appleton as to whether said pavement will stand up under wear and usage unless some minor work is done to correct the defects are to be corrected.

"Now, therefore, for an in consideration of the City of Appleton accepting said pavement and paying to said White Construction Co. the balance due on said contract, minus the sum of $5,000, the said White Construction Co. agrees to allow the said city of Appleton to retain the said sum of $5,000 as additional security to keep the said work in good order and repair, said $5,000 not to be held longer than the 1st day of July, A. D. 1926, provided said work is in good order and repair at that time.

TWO STAND PAT
Although refusal to accept the pavement last Wednesday night was practically unanimous, Aldermen Richards and Steinhauser were the only ones to oppose passage of the resolution Friday afternoon. Both vigorously expressed their objections.

"Wednesday night practically every alderman voted against acceptance of the pavement," Alderman Richards said. "This afternoon practically all are ready to reverse their action. The condition of the streets is the same now as it was Wednesday night and I fail to understand the change of heart which most of the aldermen have suffered. I believe the council will make a grave mistake to accept the pavement until it is in a satisfactory condition, and I will not support acceptance at this time."

The views of Alderman Steinhauser were similar. He charged that the construction company had done exceptionally poor work on the north end of N. Lave-st, and stated the pavement should not be accepted until such time as the company had remedied the bad spot.

WEATHER WAS BAD
Although Mr. Flood admitted that N. Lave-st was "not in as good condition as it might be," he said the pavement was laid during unfavorable weather conditions, under which it would have been almost impossible to remedy the errors. He admitted the pavement on the north end of N. Lave-st was wavy in some places, and honeycombed in a few spots, but expressed his belief that both conditions "might" be ironed out with heavy traffic. He said that the roughness would not necessarily shorten the life of the pavement.

Just what repairs, if any, will be undertaken on Lave-st has not yet been determined. Nothing will be

WISCONSIN WEATHER
Snow or rain and colder in east and south; fair in northwest portion to night. Sunday fair and colder; cool wave in extreme southeast portion to night, with temperatures of about 20 degrees.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
High pressure with low temperature over the northern plain states this morning. Meanwhile a low pressure area of considerable energy has moved across Texas from Mexico, being centered this morning over Oklahoma, and is now moving northeastward toward the Great Lakes and is expected to pass close enough to cause snow and increasing north winds to night, shifting to northwest Sunday. Temperatures will fall as the "low" moves past and the high pressure in the northwest advances.

POTATOES NOW MORE THAN $2 A BUSHEL

This is a tough season for the Irish. Spuds are higher in price than they have been for many years at this time. The wholesale figure is $2 a bushel and the price to the customer is from $2.35 to $2.45 a bushel. Potatoes were a poor crop this season and many of them were ruined by the frosts, in October. Even the hardy potatoes could not survive in great numbers, and as a result the few that are good, command a high figure.

Nether do the hens like the cold weather, as evidenced by the high cost of fresh eggs. Eggs too are scarce, and are being sold for 60 cents a dozen in some stores.

One of the few cheap commodities at this time is sugar. The price of 100 pounds is $5.75, or only a little over a nickel a pound.

BARBERS INITIATE TWO
There will be a meeting of the Appleton Barbers union, 730 Monday evening in Trades and Labor hall. Two candidates will be initiated.

done this fall, it being generally agreed that weather conditions would not permit satisfactory work. Repairs that are found necessary will be undertaken next spring or early summer, it was said.

Mr. Flood and Robert M. Connelly, city engineer, agreed that waves in the pavement could not be ironed out with a roller. Butldith, they pointed out, is made up of coarser material than asphalt and does not soften as readily with heat.

CUT OUT SECTIONS
The former stated it might be necessary to cut out sections of the bitu-minous material near the joints, refilling the holes with new material. Merely heating, raking down and stamping the material at the joints might also correct the roughness, he said.

Mr. Coughlin, contractor in charge of the work on the streets, stated he could not see that there were any extreme irregularities in the work. He declared the job was "average," and said he was at a loss to understand the attitude the council had taken.

CITY IS GOAT
"Of course, we were delayed in coming to Appleton and as a result it was necessary to complete the work in cold weather," thereby making you people the goats," he said. "However, the pavement is in no worse near the condition you charge it is; in fact it is beyond reproach. In my estimation."

"It's a poor job, but that doesn't make any difference to you fellows," answered Alderman Mark Catlin. "You can take your money and leave. We aldermen, however, must take the blame if the street becomes rough."

Pavement on the other streets and on the south end of N. Lave-st is satisfactory. It is only the north end of Lave-st from North-st north to Wisconsin-ave that the aldermen objected to last Wednesday.

Under the terms of the contract which was entered into with the White Construction Co., the firm will have to correct irregularities on that portion of Lave-st which was objected to by July 1. If it has done so by that time the remaining $5,000 will then be paid the company.

HOLD PARTNER DIDN'T STEAL FIRM'S MONEY

Jury Frees William Sohrweide, New London, of Embezzlement Charge

Waupaca—"Not guilty" was the verdict a jury gave in the case of the state vs. William Sohrweide of New London in circuit court before Justice Byron Park. He was charged with embezzlement of funds of the former firm of Zandree and Sohrweide dealers in farm machinery. The complaining witness was Gust Zandree, a partner of the defendant. The two were in business but drifted apart and the verdict is one to refute charges and points upon which they disagreed. It was said that Sohrweide withheld funds to cover expenses which he claimed against the partnership and for which he had received no compensation. Possible civil action may result from points brought out during the trial. Those on the jury were Charles Hianke, Pearl Avery, C. Kreunen, Paul Evenson, Lenora Ritchie, Erick Toepke, Truman Potts, Caroline Jorgens, Margaret Nichols, Frank Reisenberg, Oscar Jasman and Lena Thiel.

With the completion of the Sohrweide case, all criminal actions to be tried on the present calendar have been finished. Cases of civil nature for jury consideration are now in progress.

ACCIDENT SUIT STARTS

The first of this kind to come before the court is the case of C. A. Thoreson and Co. vs. John Vig. This case is the outgrowth of an accident last summer when the Waupaca-Clintonville bus collided with the automobile of John Vig, a resident of Seandun. While rounding a curve on county trunk highway D the bus is said to have run into Mr. Vig's car, which is alleged to have been on the wrong side of the road. The law firm of Keller and Keller represents the plaintiffs, and State Senator H. J. Severson of Iowa, is attorney for the defendant, Mr. Vig.

Any action in the Arthur LaValley assault case for possible trial at this time of court will not take place. The formal findings of the supreme court have not been received by the clerk of courts, Mr. Overm. Only news reports have been received by this official and the defendant's attorney, Mr. LaValley is still in Waupaca prison and will remain until further action of Judge Park.

County Clerk L. F. Shoemaker and Highway Commissioner John Huffnutt have received official notice that there has been made available by the state $83,501 as federal construction aid to be used on state trunk highway No. 22, between Waupaca and Wisconsin Veterans Home for the year 1926. The county will also receive $20,575, to be used in the improvement of the county trunk system. Work on soldiers home road is expected to commence as soon as weather conditions will permit next spring. State highway surveyors have already laid out the proposed road and it is thought the portion from the city to Chady corner, a distance of about one and one half miles will be 30 feet in width as this portion carries traffic of routes 13 and 31 as well as 22, and it has been on this road that most of the high traffic census has been recorded. It is then proposed to have an eighteen-foot surface from this point the remainder of the way to the home, where likely it will again be widened at that part fronting the institution.

ASK HIGHWAY
When the county board meets next week it is expected that supervisors of the city of New London will bring with them a petition for concrete paving on highway No. 26 extending from the north limits of the city to connect with the concrete south of the Bear Creek corners. This will mean a pavement all the way to Clintonville.

The population of residents of Wisconsin Veterans Home at the present time is said to be 412.

The state board of health has decided to make the city of Waupaca one of the various health centers of the state. The bureau of child welfare will open the Waupaca unit Wednesday, Nov. 11, with hours from 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 o'clock at the city hall. The purpose of the institution, which is to be permanent, is to conduct physical examinations of children up to the age of six years to determine defects so they may be correctly handled and treated under the direction of the parent, as no treatments are given by the bureau. Examination will be made by Dr. Charlotte Culvert, who will visit the city every 23 days and Waupaca will be in her charge. Mrs. Hazel Barton, county nurse, will assist as will members of the county health committee. Registration and information relative to the examinations should be applied for as early as possible, it is said. Expectant mothers are also given the service of the staff. Any mother whose child was examined last year by the child welfare special in its tour through the county is in vited to appear again for reexamination, so as to note if any improvement has been made.

12 FREIGHT CARS JUMP OFF RAILS

Meat Scattered Along Railroad Tracks When Cars Tumble Over in Ditch

Neenah—Twelve cars of a Soo line train loaded with meat shipped from Minneapolis to Chicago, jumped the tracks three miles west of this city Friday noon, while going at a high rate of speed. The cars piled up in the ditch, many of them being wrecked, scattering meat for several hundred feet along the tracks. The heavy train was being pulled by two engines and was speeding up to make the Clayton hill.

A defective rail is given as the cause of the derailment. The engines and ten of the cars passed over the spot where the derailment occurred before the following cars left the tracks. Traffic was delayed during the remainder of the day and up to noon Saturday the tracks were not back in shape for trains to pass over them.

No one was injured as the train crew was in the caboose which did not leave the tracks.

ELECT BASSETT MAYOR OF Y. M. C. A. VILLAGE

Charles R. Bassett will be the first mayor of the Appleton Y. M. C. A. "village" as the result of the election by dormitory men on Friday. A large number of the association residents voted and Bassett defeated his nearest opponent, A. H. Gerhardt, 37 to 18. Two votes were scattered. Other officers elected for the village were: Rufus Jorgenson, secretary and treasurer, Dr. E. J. Ladner and Arthur Humes, aldermen from the First ward; Carl Hansen and Hugo Pelzer, aldermen from the Third ward; Tom Temple and Otto F. Jilek, aldermen from the Fourth ward.

The contest for secretary-treasurer was the closest. Jorgenson polled 20 votes and J. R. Fisher, his closest rival followed with 18. Leo Bunde a third candidate for the job, pulled with 14. All of the aldermanic elections also were close. With the first set of officers ready to start work, the new government probably will start functioning next week. The officers will be installed and the first council meeting will be held immediately after.

Arrest Speedy—Roy Kuehl, 555 Whitney-st., Kaukauna, was arrested by Officer Carl Radtke at 7:30 Friday evening on W. Washington-ave charged with speeding 30 miles per hour. He will be arraigned in municipal court Monday morning.

DENTAL CLINIC MAY BE OPENED IN SCHOOLROOM

Kiwanis Club Offers to Back
Plan for Restoration of Service

Appleton municipal dental clinic is on its way to restoration through efforts of the Kiwanis club and the dentists. It probably will be in operation in a few weeks.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., has given his consent to have the dental equipment moved to its place of storage in the city hall, and Ben J. Rohan, superintendent of schools, has obtained a room in the Lincoln school building for use of the clinic. These activities all came about when the Kiwanis club agreed to assume the financial responsibility for the employment of a dentist two mornings a week. Children of the less fortunate families especially will be given attention if their teeth are in need of treatment.

Dr. W. M. Edgar, retiring president of Appleton Dental Study club, has obtained the names of five dentists who will agree to serve at the clinic two mornings a week. The men probably will take turns so as not to interfere with their regular office practice.

It remains now for arrangements to be made to fit up the room for the clinic. The city has a good dental chair and most of the equipment but water connections will be needed. The desire is to have the office provided with every reasonable convenience so that efficient work can be done. Mayor Goodland has promised his cooperation in this respect, also.

LOTS OF ELECTRICITY CAN BE BOUGHT FOR CENT

Appleton—The usual American family spends about $25 a year on electric current—not half what spends on tobacco, on gasoline, on ice cream—One penny of that amount runs an electric vacuum cleaner something like 40 minutes—

—Operates an electric washing machine 50 minutes—

—Heats a six-pound electric flat-iron 25 minutes—

—Heats a toaster long enough to toast 16 slices of bread—

—Brews 5 cups of coffee in an electric percolator—

—Heats an electric waffle-iron long enough to cook 20 waffles—

—Keeps warm an electric heating pad from 3 to 6 hours—

—Runs a sewing machine for 3 hours—

—Heats a curling iron once a day (which Heaven knows is enough) for three weeks on end—

—And operates an electric vibrator for twenty-minutes daily treatments for 11 days!

CITY IS ALMOST CONTAGION FREE

Lots of "Colds" but Little Serious Illness in Appleton This Fall

Although this is the time of year when colds and contagious diseases are usually prevalent, Appleton is exceedingly fortunate in being practically free of contagious ailments, according to Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer. Only four cases of contagious diseases are known to be in the city now, he reports. Three of these are scarlet fever cases, one is whooping cough and one is diphtheria. The sudden drop in temperature several weeks ago, combined with a spell of wet weather has resulted in innumerable colds, Mr. Sanders said. The number of people afflicted with malady is probably no greater now than at this time in any other year he thinks.

Extreme care should be taken of colds, Mr. Sanders warns. Although the ailment itself is not considered serious except from the accompanying discomfort, it weakens the general resistance of the body often resulting in more dangerous troubles, especially pneumonia.

After snow is on the ground and the weather has turned colder, the majority of colds will disappear. Spring, with its wet weather and changeable weather will bring the ailment out again, however.

OLD BLUE LEADER SIGNS CONTRACT TO PLAY AT BAY

Eddie Kotal, All-Midwest
Quarterback, to Hold Left
Half Job for Packers

When the Green Bay Packers, crack pro football squad, meet the Chicago Cardinals headed by Red Dunn and Paddy Driscoll, at the Windy City Sunday, a boy familiar to many Appleton fans will be in a Bay uniform. Eddie Kotal, ex-captain of this year's Blue squad, is scheduled to play at left half for the Packers. Eddie intended to stay out of pro ball until his college career was ended, but he discovered that he was through with competition at Lawrence and jumped at a nice offer. It was thought when Kotal left school this quarter he would be eligible for basketball; the second quarter and possibly for football next fall. In looking up the rules, however, it was found that his play in the Oshkosh Normal game this fall, constituted varsity competition, giving him his four years. As far as basketball was concerned, he was through. Because of a rule which makes absence from school the quarter before an automatic failure in studies, Eddie learned of these facts this week and immediately took the Bay offer.

ALL AROUND STAR

Kotal was one of the best all-around athletes at the Blue school. He won letters in football, basketball and track. He was a track captain and a varsity runner. In the grid he started at half and quarterback and was captain of the 1923 squad. He was an all-state man his first year, 1922, and all-state and all-midwest the last two years. Three years of basketball also are part of this record. He started as a forward and was shifted to a guard when the occasion demanded. While primarily a forward, he was good enough at a guard job to be chosen by a poll of the coaches for an all-midwest berth last winter. This was his last year of competition. Eddie also was one of the most popular athletes in school.

EASTERN TITLE

TILT AT HANOVER

Clash Between Dartmouth and Gloomy Gil's Cohorts Expected to Settle Leadership

New York—The mythical eastern championship in view of many football followers depends on the outcome of a game at Hanover, N. H., Saturday.

The teams are Dartmouth, the home eleven, and Cornell, the Juggermout of Gloomy Gil Dobie. They are among the highest scoring teams of the country and have won all their games. Dartmouth ruled in a favorite at 2 to 1. It has a backfield and line. For two seasons it has gone along without a reverse. Cornell, caught under the big green avalanche a year ago, 27 to 14, was one of the few victims to score against Dartmouth.

The annual struggle of Princeton and Harvard at Princeton is the first of the year's classics involving Harvard, Princeton and Yale. Princeton was the favorite Sunday because of a better record.

Penn State and Notre Dame, meeting at State's field, head the list of intersectional battles. Maryland and Yale meet at New Haven. Ohio Wesleyan takes on an undefeated Syracuse at Syracuse.

Several of the most powerful elevens of the east expect to give many of their regulars a rest Saturday, as they meet teams from which the opposition is not expected to be keen. The Army, Navy, Pennsylvania and Colgate are among these teams.

Annual fixtures Sunday being together Washington and Jefferson and Pittsburg West Virginia and Boston College; Lehigh and Georgetown; Williams and Wesleyan; Rutgers and La Fayette; Columbia and New York U. Holy cross and Fordham.

The eyes of the football world are on an experiment in Providence, R. I., where the step which will be abandoned while Brown and Boston University inaugurate the forty play period idea.

SPECIAL DOUBLES PIN MEET ON OLYMPIC ALLEY

A special doubles match will be rolled Monday evening on the Olympic alleys when A. Jinos and A. Bauer will clash with William Groth and H. Kostzke in a ten-game match. The high total pins for the ten games will decide the winner. The match will be ended at 7:30.

FRIDAY GRID GAMES

Michigan 27; Northwestern 6
Milwaukee 0 Oshkosh 0
Columbia 27; La Crosse 0.

YANKEES MAY HAVE ENTIRE NEW INFIELD

New York—One short year brings about many changes in the personnel of the various major league ball clubs. The New York Yankees may be a striking example of this fact when 1926 rolls around.

An infield entirely different from the one that started the 1925 campaign may be seen in action for Manager Huggins next April. Last season Pipp was at first, Ward at second, Scott at short and Dugan at third when the season opened. Many changes were made during the summer. At one time last season the entire quartet of veterans were on the bench, the inner defense being composed of Gehrig, Johnson, Wanning and Shanks.

Just now it looks as if Gehrig had succeeded Pipp for all time, with the new star, Tony Lazzeri, at second, Koenig at short and Joe Dugan at third, with the last named being uncertain because of a bad knee, recently operated on.

BAYS MEET CARDS IN PRO LOOP GAME

Former Blue Captain May Get Chance in First Professional
Battle Against Chi Crew

Saturday
Akron at Philadelphia.
Sunday
Philadelphia at Chicago (twice).
Green Bay at Chicago (Cardinals).
Akron at Pottsville.
Columbus at New York.
Cleveland at Canton.
Hammond at Rock Island.
Duluth at Kansas City.
Buffalo at Providence.
Milwaukee at Detroit.

The Green Bay Packers hopped off for Chicago on an early train Saturday where on Sunday at White Sox park, they will give battle to the Cardinals in a pro league football game that will go a long way toward deciding the national championship.

And it was a fighting game of football that boarded the flyer for the Windy City. With the exception of Capt. Lambeau, the squad is "in the pink" and every player is keyed up for the fray. It will be a different looking aggregation than the team that played in Milwaukee last Sunday. As the train pulled out, one of the station crew yelled: "Bring home the bacon, boys, we are counting on you."

And that is just what the Packers intend to do.

RECORDS OF PAST GAMES

The Bays and Cards have battled three times. The first game ended a 3-3 tie. The second fray went to O'Brien's holdings, 16 to 3 while last season Paddy Driscoll booted a dropkick for a 3 to 0 win after the Packers had played rings around the Chicago team.

Present indications point to a big Green Bay delegation at the game as the Northwestern excursion, leaving Sunday morning at 1 a. m., appears to be going over nicely. The railroad officials report many inquiries regarding the Packer special. The advance guard of Packer rooters is already in Chicago as a number went down to see the Michigan-Northwestern game. The headquarters of the Big Bay Blue during their sojourn in the Windy City will be at the Metropolitan hotel, Michigan Blvd. and 23rd st. The hotel is only about 20 minutes ride from the park.

HAVE RESPECT FOR PACKERS

The Cardinals have a lot of respect for the Packers and it is understood that they have put in some extra practice ticks this week. The Chicago team, probably will be minus the services of McNulty and Bloomer, two of their regulars who are on the injured list. However, Paddy Driscoll, Erickson and "Red" Dunn are feeling fine for an exciting afternoon.

The announcement that Eddie Kotal has cast his lot with the Packers was good news for the Green Bay fans. The former Lawrence captain is a speed demon on the gridiron and he cuts loose with a style of play like Marty Norton. Kotal may not be used Sunday but, just the same, he is a pretty dangerous man and Capt. Lambeau may shoot him into the fray in a pinch.

SOPH STARS MAKE YOST GREAT COACH

OSTERBAAN GILBERT BABCOCK MOLENDIA

Four sophomore stars have had much to do in rounding out Michigan's great team this year. They have been the nucleus for what many experts regard as the best team in the country. Michigan's 54-0 victory over Ann Arbor, that had previously played Princeton to a tie, gives some idea of the efficiency of Yost's machine. Osterbaan is one of the best ends Michigan ever had. Molenda is outstanding among the fullbacks of the Big Ten. Babcock is a clever backfield performer and Gilbert is most versatile at half. Yost, from a college standpoint, has a young team and next season should have a Western Conference champion if he gets any sort of a break.

Yost Finds Moss-Covered Plays Fool Rival Squads

Ann Arbor, Mich.—It isn't always the new plays that work best in football. On the contrary, some of the old, moss-covered ones oftentimes prove much better ground-gainers, and simply because they are so antiquated they have been virtually forgotten. Perhaps no leading gridiron coach digs down into the old and discarded bag of tricks as does Yost of Michigan. Every so often you hear of the famous "Hurry Up" uncovers an almost obsolete play in a big battle. And usually with plenty of success, too. The other week-end Yost pulled one of the old-timers against Illinois, a smart eleven. Twice it worked for long gains, the second time putting the Wolverines into position to enable Friedman to kick a field goal for the winning points.

The play—an intricate delayed pass behind the line—was good for 30 yards the initial time, Molenda carrying the ball. The second occasion Gregory got outside the Illinois left end for 14 precious yards, giving Michigan a first down on the Zuppke 18-yard stripe. Both times it completely fooled the Illini. On a dry field two touchdowns might have resulted.

Back in 1911 Yost pulled much the same play on Pennsylvania. With but a few minutes to play and the Quakers leading, 9 to 5, Jimmy Craig carried some 35 yards for the winning touchdown on a delayed pass that puzzled the easterners the same as it did Illinois.

On the play, which some call a reverse criss-cross, the quarter takes the ball from center on a hand pass, who takes a pass to another player.

Meanwhile all but one of the other backs start for one of the ends, thus drawing the defense over to that side. The ball is then tossed to the back who has remained fast, and who seems to have entirely missed the signal, and he legs it around the opposite flank.

WEST GRID CREWS SET FOR ABTTLES

Chicago Squad Is Mystery
Team in Crucial Battle Between Zuppke and Staggs

Chicago (AP)—A three ring circus with first class sideshows was offered for the approval of mid west fans Saturday. In the big show are Chicago-Illinois at Urbana, Michigan-Northwestern at Chicago and Iowa-Wisconsin at Iowa City.

Red Grange is the main attraction. To see his performance 70,000 persons have staged a veritable circus parade over the roads of Illinois into the $2,000,000 Illinois Memorial stadium.

The Chicago Maroons are the masked marvels. Downed by Pennsylvania, which fell before Grange and his Illini, the Stagmen have been caustically criticized. Their power is plentiful but the offensive is sluggish. Only because of defensive strength have they remained unbeaten in the Big Ten.

Illinois on the other hand, though beaten in two conference bouts has a formidable attack, based on Grange and a perfected interference for him. The wild animal act is the meeting of Michigan's Wolverines and Northwestern's wild rats in Soldiers field, Chicago's municipal stadium. Michigan uncrossed goal and its leadership for sparkling performance from Friedman, Molenda, Gilbert and Osterbaan. Baker's trained toe is Northwestern's hope, but his damaged ankle may keep him out of the arena most of the time. "Plowboy" Wesley Fry, instead of "Cowboy" Nick Kautsky, bears the brunt of Iowa's offerings against the Wisconsin. The Hawkeyes are undefeated and are favorites while the Badgers have been downed and tied in previous starts.

The leading sideshow event is the inter-state clash of Ohio State and Indiana at Columbus. Since both have been defeated the result has slight bearing on the conference title race. Purdue and Minnesota seem destined to outshine their respective foes, Franklin at LaFayette and Butler at Minneapolis.

19 MORE BOOSTER TEAMS ADDED FOR STATE PIN MEET

Women Now Have 30 Squads in Drive to Put More Boosters on Drives Than Racine

Nineteen more merchants and manufacturers of Appleton entered the ranks of boosters of the city this week when they put booster bowling teams in the field for the 1926 State Womens Bowling tournament which will be held in this city from Feb. 4-12. Merchants of the city are supporting the local women in fine style and several more are expected to be added to the list in the near future. This is the furthest north the meet has ever been held and the Appleton Womens Bowling association, sponsors of the meet expect to make it a big success. Racine held the 1925 meet and 80 booster teams were on the drives from the Belle city during the meet. Appleton women intend to outdo this record and show what the northern part of the state can do for bowling. The local association is a part of the national keeling organization and any woman in Appleton is eligible.

The new "Booster For Appleton" firms are Fox River Hardware Co., Burt's Candy Shop, Jacobson Economic store, Union Pharmacy, Oaks Candy shop, Peerless National laundry, Modern Dry Cleaners, Behrke and Jense, Schneiders Restaurant, Voigts Drug store, Hughes Clothing Co., Belling Drug store, The S. C. Shannon Co., Marston Bros., Frazer Lumber Co., Brettschneider Furniture Co., Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. (two teams) and Schweitzer and Langenberg. Teams entered by firms last week include: Gmeiner Kandy Kids, Geenen Dry Goods Co., Pettibone-Petubody, Schaefer Hardware Co., J. C. Penny Co., Glouberman-Gage Co. and Outasunde Hardware Co.

Gal plus and Sons, Fair Drygoods Co., Orstein Oak and Suit Co., and Feinschneider's shoe. Manufacturers as well as business men are putting teams in the field.

Firms cooperating in getting out the state programs are Hotel Conway, Hotel Appleton, Hotel Northern, O. K. Taxi time, Mack's restaurant, State Lumber, Smith Livery and Jense's Arcade.

The publicity and convention department of the chamber of commerce is backing the project and is aiding with a nice set of novelty programs in the way of advertising Appleton and vicinity.

Carroll is arranging the most ambitious schedule in the history of the college. In addition to the game already carded, negotiations are being made for games with Loyola university and a three day trip January 4 and 6 in Illinois and Indiana to include, if possible, such teams as Washburn, Butler, James Milliken, Lamford and Bradley.

The tentative schedule follows: December 4-North Dakota Aggies at Carroll.
January 4-Northwestern (Naper) at Carroll.
January 12-Ripon at Carroll.
January 22-Georgetown university at Carroll.

The Doughnuts led by 22 pins at the end of the first game but the Wrinkle boys ate up the pins to win by a 103 game in the second fray, putting them 31 pins ahead and the Baker squad was unable to catch them. After a great season in 1924, the showing of Rutgers so far this year has been most disappointing. Three games have already been lost, Cornell, Yale Nova and Maryland turning the trick.

AMERICA NEEDS TRAINED MEN IN FOREIGN SERVICE

President Wriston Tells
Teachers H. S. Diplomats
Are Nations Eyes and Ears

"The foreign service is the first line of defense against war, and consequently is playing an important part in the peace movement which is the greatest problem and the biggest task that the world is facing today," declared Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, before the Milwaukee Teachers' association in Milwaukee Friday afternoon. The conference was held in the auditorium of Milwaukee-Dawson college.

"The problem is to build a foreign service which is capable of meeting the situation today and which, at the same time, is not out of harmony with American sentiment and tradition in foreign relations," the speaker continued in emphasizing the importance of the foreign service of the United States and the need for a better comprehension of its purpose and function.

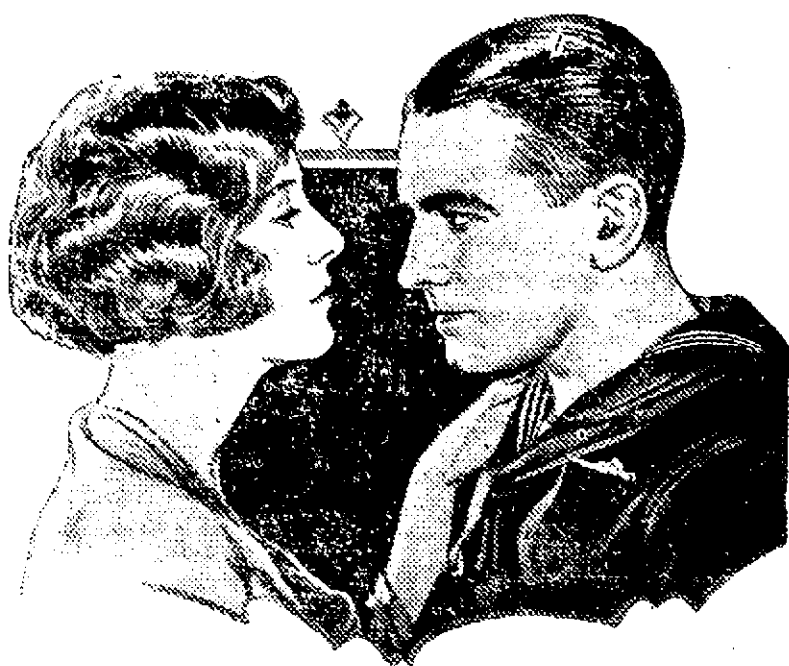

THREE TRADITIONS

In discussing the traditions of the foreign service of the United States, Dr. Wriston said:

"The traditions are principally three. The first is that the diplomacy of the United States should be in the hands of amateurs; the second is that the foreign service should be small; and the third is that the foreign service should be more political in character and part of the spoils of politics. Dr. Wriston next developed and explained these three traditions, their effects and influence on the foreign service of the United States. "Amateur diplomacy was not a part of the original American tradition. The early diplomats were trained men, and were appointed to their positions with little regard for politics. One of the best roads to political success for rising to the presidency was by means of diplomatic service. Jefferson, Adams, Monroe, and John Quincy Adams all had diplomatic experience. The all use of the amateur diplomats was shown, the speaker pointing out that the days of amateur diplomacy has gone by.

COST IS SMALL

The foreign service of the United States was compared as to cost to that of Great Britain in the discussion of the size of the diplomatic service. President Wriston pointed out that the net cost of the entire foreign service of the United States is less than half a million dollars, while the British foreign service costs the tax payers of Great Britain about eight millions dollars. The cost of the foreign service of the United States is less than that of almost any other first-class power, it was shown.

Richard Barthelmess and Dorothy Mac Kaill in "Shore Leave."

The tradition of political service, like the tradition of amateur diplomacy, came in with Andrew Jackson, the speaker declared, and no attempt was made to overthrow that tradition until late in the nineteenth century, when an effort was made to bring diplomatic service within the sphere of civil service reform.

The situation at the close of the Great War and the immediate need for reform, was next discussed, and the provisions of the present Foreign Service Act, usually known as "The Rogers Bill," by which the reforms have been put into effect were outlined.

In closing, Dr. Wriston summarized: The American foreign service has been a characteristic product of American life. In its history it has conformed to the various stages through which public opinion has passed. Though it was small at the beginning, it was non-partisan and expert. That represented the period when the United States was active in the affairs of the world, though it sought to pursue, insofar as was practicable, a policy of independent action. Later, when the United States turned to that wonderful period of self-development, when it created within itself an almost self-sufficient empire, and when its foreign trade was less in proportion to its wealth than it had been, the foreign service of the United States fell into neglect, and was chiefly used for furnishing berths for deserving politicians. Again, when the United States came to the stage as a world power, the need for a more effective, and more expert foreign service began to be felt. Like most political reforms, the actual changes came more slowly than the need, so that the United States found itself in the face of the Great War with an entirely inadequate set of eyes and ears abroad. At present there is an attempt to furnish capable eyes and ears around the world in order that American business may expand, and in order that American citizens may go abroad safely, and in order that the interests of the United States may be amply protected. The foreign service, as organized under the Rogers Bill, is one of which we may justly be proud, and it is making a steady progress toward an economic, efficient organization.

HINT AT BONDS IF PEOPLE WANT GARBAGE PLANT

Mayor Says City Can't Afford to Pay for Plant in One Tax Levy

If the common council decides to build a garbage disposal plant to be operated municipally, the system probably will be financed by a bond issue, Mayor John Goodland, Jr., intimated this week. With paving and laying of sewers still to be completed on several city's streets, it would be adding too large a sum to the budget to attempt to pay for the system in one year, he said.

Although the committee recently appointed by Mayor Goodland to determine the need of a garbage disposal system in the city was to have recommended action against the project at the council meeting Wednesday night, the movement is not yet lost. The committee, headed by Pliny Earl, has agreed to wait until it hears from a similar committee which has been appointed by the chamber of commerce. The recommendation of the

NOTED BISHOP WILL SPEAK AT WRISTON DINNER

Reputed to be the most able speaker on the Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, Bishop E. H. Hughes of Chicago, will deliver the principal address at the banquet on Nov. 24, when Dr. Henry M. Wriston will be inaugurated president of Lawrence college.

There will be only one other speaker at the luncheon, Elizabeth Wilson of New York City, international secretary of the Young Women's Christian association. Miss Wilson is a graduate of Lawrence, a member of the class of 1890, and a former teacher here.

The council committee probably will determine to a great extent and action of the council.

The committee appointed by the mayor will make its recommendation to the council at the next meeting, at which time final action will be taken on the matter.

Sentiment of the community toward a garbage disposal system is to be determined by the chamber of commerce committee by means of petitions which have been left at drug stores in the city for signatures. Approximately 400 signatures were obtained on petitions which were circulated by a group of women last summer.

DELEGATES IN PULPIT SUNDAY

Congregational Folk Will Hear
Capital Echoes — Special
Movie at Night

Two special programs will be conducted by the First Congregational church at its services Sunday, with talks by the Washington council delegation in the morning and the motion picture, "By Divine Right," in the evening.

Several of those who were at the national capital for the recent meeting of the National Council of Congregational Churches will give glimpses of this great gathering at the morning worship at 11 o'clock. It was here that E. J. Harwood was elected moderator of the council and given national honors. Special music at this service will be an anthem, "O Jesus, Thou Art Standing," given by the vested choir, and a duet, "I Love the Lord."

Dr. H. E. Peabody will preach a 10-minute sermon at the service at 7:30 in the evening, drawing a lesson from the motion picture, "By Divine Right." The principal actors in this play are Elliot Dexter and Mildred Harris. It is the story of a political boss who acts in an uncouth manner toward his stenographer. She flees to a mission in the slums and an interesting series of incidents ensues while both the political boss and the "prince" of the mission endeavor to win her love. The weekly organ recital by LaValin K. Maesch is to start at 7:15. The evening program also includes a solo by Miss Isabel Wilcox.

PETTIBONE'S famous trimming of Christmas Trees will be used again this year as in years past. THE STORE OF OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS was the originator of the Christmas Tree Trimming for a store in the Fox River Valley. Each year this beautiful trimming has grown a little more elaborate. This year we plan the most spectacular decoration of the many years that these lovely trees have been used.

The knowledge that friends of The Store from surrounding communities have motored to Appleton especially to see The Store of The Christmas Tree in its holiday decorations is our compensation for the many preparations necessary to this decoration.

These Are The Trees Required

This year we are anxious to have an especially fine type of spruce trees. The required specifications are published below so that anyone may bid on supplying trees. The measurements are from the bottom branches to the top of the stems—not including the spike.
